DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed June 4, 2003, amending claims 23 and 24, has been entered. Applicant's response to the Advisory Action mailed on April 8, 2003 has also been entered and considered.

Claims 1 and 22-25 are pending.

The indicated allowability of claims 1 and 22 are withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Davis et al. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 and 23-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Davis et al.

Davis et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,541,605 form PTO-892) teach a kinase that is 100% identical to SEQ ID NO:2 of the instant invention (Columns 31-34 and claim 2).

Art Unit: 1652

Davis et al. also teach variants of the kinase (Columns 2 through 6). Therefore, the teachings of Davis et al. anticipate claims 1 and 23-25.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Davis et al. in view of Smith.

Davis et al. teaches a polypeptide that is 100% identical to SEQ ID NO:2 of the instant invention, as discussed above.

The difference between the reference of Davis et al. and the instant invention is that Davis et al. do not teach a polypeptide comprising additional amino acid residues at the N-terminus or C-terminus.

Smith (U.S. Patent No. 5,654,176) teaches a fusion protein in which a foreign or heterologous protein is fused with glutathione-S-transferase (Column 2, lines 27-34). Smith teaches that the resulting fusion protein is soluble and can be purified from bacterial lysates under non-denaturing conditions (Column 2, lines 38-42).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made to fuse the glutathione-S-transferase to the polypeptide of Davis et al. to purify the protein without altering the antigenicity or destroying the functional activity of the protein. One of ordinary skill in the art would have had a reasonable expectation of success since glutathione-S-transferase is widely used in purifying heterologous polypeptides.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 23-26 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-2 of U.S. Patent No. 6,074,862. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are claiming common subject matter, as follows: polypeptide variants of SEQ ID NO:2 as defined in Claims 1-2 of U.S. Patent No. 6,074,862.
